Marisa as Managing director and Founder of Greymouse has sound business leadership, culture development and management skills developed through exposure to over 70 employees within the Greymouse group. Leading teams with diverse cultures, religions and races creates an interesting and challenging mixture.

Creating businesses from start up right through the growth stages, implementing systems creating total autonomy for months or even years at a time is beyond many business leaders. The most recent vacation included a 3 year break (away from the business) with the leadership team continuing to grow the business during her absence.

In December 2016 Marisa and Greymouse won the culture award for excellence from Kerwin Rae 'K2 Elite' business group.

The video shows some of the leadership activities and culture work conducted within Greymouse.
